

NJTV MOVES TO 2 GATEWAY CENTER IN NEWARK

This month, NJTV moves into its new headquarters at 2 Gateway Center, centrally located in the heart of Newark, New Jersey's largest city. The Agnes Varis NJTV Studio will be home to the network's television anchor studio, the weeknight news program NJTV News with Mary Alice Williams and will house a community room.

"From this location at 2 Gateway, we can directly interact with the public we serve, as thousands of passersby will be able to literally look into our operations and see our team at work," said NJTV's General Manager John Servidio. "We also look forward to welcoming viewers into our space for special events, from program tapings to community gatherings to educational sessions."

Among its many benefits, 2 Gateway Center is connected to an enclosed pedestrian walkway leading to Newark Penn Station, where thousands of commuters access NJ Transit, PATH, Newark Subway, Light Rail, and Amtrak lines. It is along this walkway that NJTV will have its studio.

"We want to put the public back in public television and grow our news coverage," said NJTV News Executive Producer Phil Alongi. "The move to this location, with its easy access and open glass front, is a great way to expand our visibility and community engagement with the network and the news program." The first live NJTV News with Mary Alice Williams broadcast is expected to air on Monday, May 18. There will also be a ribbon cutting ceremony on Wednesday, May 27 at 4:30pm to celebrate the move and the network's bright future.

Further exciting news for the network: NJTV productions were nominated for 11 New York Emmy Awards, including NJTV News, State of the Arts and Classroom Close-up, NJ. The winners will be announced on Saturday, May 2, 2015.

STATE OF THE ARTS

Throughout history, the Garden State has been home to poetry giants like Walt Whitman, William Carlos Williams, Allen Ginsberg, and Amiri Baraka. State of the Arts attends "Jersey Voices: Rediscovering the Poetry State" for an evening of poetry and conversation, at the New Jersey Performing Arts Center in Newark. The program features U.S. Poet Laureate and Long Branch native Robert Pinsky, Maria Mazziotti Gillan, BJ Ward, and Gretna Wilkinson (pictured left to right).

State of the Arts also visits Wheaton Arts in Millville to see molten glass parts fabricated, and to the schoolhouse and museum to see artists like Mark Dion and Judy Pfaff putting the final touches on their work.

PREMIERES SUNDAY,
MAY 31 AT 8PM
